PVST deals with VLANs, which means that it manages multiple network devices than RSTP. The purpose of UPLINKFAST, FASTBONE FAST and Portfast is to reduce the time required to the classic Spanning Tree Protocol (STP) to converge after a fault to the link. UPLINKFAST is a Cisco function that can be configured on access level switches. Both STP and RSTP put each door in a state of forwarding or blocking. What is Uplinkfast in Cisco? One of the Uplink is blocked by STP. What is the fastest RSTP or 802.1D translation shaft? The purpose of Uplinkfast, Backbone Fast and Portfast is to reduce the time required to converge Spanning Tree Protocol (STP) after a connection failure. UPLINKFAST: A switch-to-level switch that has redundant links to a 2-switch high-level distribution. UPLINKFAST, FASTBONE FAST and Portfast are Cisco ownership extensions at the Classic Spanning Tree Protocol algorithm (STP 802.1 D). Here is the big difference.
